

Ration Board Cost Town $1,633.73 First Two Years

Low Cost To The Town Revealed At Rotary Club's Observance Of Ration Board's Second Birthday — History Of Local Board Reviewed By James J. Golden, Jr.

The Town's share in the cost of providing office space and equipment for the Arlington Rationing Board since its inception two years ago has been only $1,633.73, a sum considerably smaller than that in many other communities of this size, James J. Golden, Jr., executive secretary to the selectmen disclosed on Wednesday.

This fact was brought out during a tribute paid by the Arlington Rotary club, at its weekly luncheon meeting, to the members of the local Rationing Board and the Price Control Panel on the occasion of the second birthday of the Rationing program.

The expense to the town was kept at this low level, Mr. Golden revealed, because the selectmen, literally begged and borrowed such office equipment as desks, typewriters, chairs, etc., to equip the new rationing board's office, and because rent-free office space was made available, first at the local police station and later by the post-office department.

Began Jan. 5, 1942
Mr. Golden brought out that in late 1941, the board of selectmen, at the request of the federal government, appointed a Tire Rationing Board to begin to function on Jan. 5, 1942. The members were Howard E. Cousins, 8 Brantwood road; Harry J. O'Reilly, 105 Grafton st.; and Milton Estabrook, 176 Pleasant st. Office space for the new board was provided at police headquarters, and Paul A. Ziegler, then executive secretary of the Public Safety committee, was given the additional responsibility as administrator.

More Deaths In Past Year

A marked increase in deaths in Arlington during the past year was noted this week in a summary of vital statistics filed at the office of Town Clerk Earl A. Ryder. During 1943, a total of 537 deaths were recorded as compared with 493 in 1942.

Marriage intentions and marriages dropped considerably over the previous year. Last year 415 intentions were filed and 420 marriages performed while in 1942, a total of 559 couples filed intentions and 596 were married.

A slight decline in the number of births was noted. Last year, 747 births were recorded as compared with 787 in 1942.

These figures are based on returns made up to Tuesday. Records of other births, deaths and marriages, which occurred in 1943, may yet be filed with the result that the totals will be changed somewhat.

Volpe Quits As Bushnell's Aide

Assistant Attorney General Frank G. Volpe, of Webster road, who has been prosecuting assistant to Attorney General Robert T. Bushnell, has resigned. The resignation came on the eve of the trial of five Boston police officials, which was brought to a sensational climax Monday when Bushnell nipped the indictments against the officers.

Attorney Volpe gave pressure of his personal business as the reason for giving up the state office.

In a statement issued following his resignation, Atty. Volpe said he was giving up the State position because of the demands of his private affairs plus the duties of the Attorney General's office had increased greatly. In addition to his law practice, he is engaged in other activities connected with war work of a most essential nature, requiring his ever increasing attention and time, he added. He was warned by his physician not to attempt the strain of a long, difficult trial.

Mr. Volpe added that his relations with Attorney General Bushnell for the past 20 years had been most cordial and friendly and would remain so. The latter agreed that their relations had been friendly.

Struck by an automobile on the Cambridge-Concord turnpike, a short distance from his home, Friday morning, John Dale, 70, of 1 Wall st., was removed to the Symmes Hospital in the police ambulance. He died at the hospital the same day as a result of a fractured skull.

The ambulance, driven by Patrolman John Ryan, which went to the accident scene, just over the town line in Belmont, was summoned by an Arlington resident living on the Concord pike. Mr. Dale was born in England and had lived in Arlington ten years. He was the husband of Mrs. Mary (Mason) Dale, and was employed as a machinist.

R funeral services were held

Monday afternoon at the Hartwell Funeral Home, Rev. Nathan Wood, interim pastor of the First Baptist church, officiated. Burial was in Mt. Pleasant Cemetery.

The accident, coming on the last day of the year, was Belmont's first automobile fatality in 1943. The automobile was being driven by Richard P. Cassidy of 16 Curve st., Lexington, according to police.

Another serious accident occurred on the turnpike, opposite Cedar ave., yesterday morning when Maude E. Arnold, of 236 Cedar ave., was struck by an automobile. The Arlington police ambulance went to the scene and the victim was removed to the Symmes Hospital. The accident happened in Belmont territory.

Annual Election Scheduled For March 6 With Town Meeting Following On March 15 — Dr. Brooks Takes Out Papers — Warrant Opened By Selectmen

With less than a month to go before the deadline for filing nominations papers, interest thus far is lacking in the annual town election scheduled for March 6.

Nomination papers must be filed by 5 p.m., Jan. 31 with the Registrars of Voters, who must then check the signatures and file the papers with the Town Clerk by Feb. 7 at 5 p.m.

Up until yesterday the majority of town officials whose term expires in March had not taken out their papers. One of the few to take out papers is Dr. Ernest R. Brooks, chairman of the board of health, who will seek another three-year term in the March election.

Harold M. Estabrook, chairman of the board of selectmen has not definitely decided whether or not he will seek another term, he told the NEWS yesterday. Having served on this board for nine busy years, Mr. Estabrook has been considering the advisability of retiring as selectman. On the other hand, friends are urging him to run for a fourth term. The name of Hallam

T. Ring, chairman of the finance committee, has been mentioned as a possible candidate for selectman in the event that Mr. Estabrook does not seek re-election. Several others are understood to be seriously considering running for this office.

More than one candidate may seek the office of Town Moderator this year since the term has been extended to three years.

With the holidays over, interest is expected to turn to politics and several new candidacies are likely to be announced within the next few days.

Meanwhile, the board of selectmen at its meeting Monday opened the warrant for the annual town election on March 6 and town meeting on March 15. The warrant will remain open for articles until 8 p.m., Jan. 24. All articles must be signed by at least ten legal voters, in which case the articles can be inserted in the warrant provided they are filed with the selectmen before Jan. 24.

Would Advance Date Of State Primary To Permit Service People To Vote

Town Clerk Earl A. Ryder of this town this week joined the town clerks of Brookline and Watertown in proposing that the date of the next State Primary be advanced from Sept. 19, 1944 to the third Tuesday in June in order to provide a sufficient amount of time to print and distribute election ballots to servicemen and thereby make it possible for the return of these absentee ballots in ample time to be counted on Election Day in November.

The statement signed by Mr. Ryder, Arthur J. Shinnars, town clerk of Brookline, and George B. Wellman, town clerk of Watertown, contends that under present conditions, absentee ballots sent to servicemen have returned too late to be cast on days of election. "The interim between the time ballots are printed and the election date is far too short to give our soldiers, sailors, marines, and auxiliary members of our armed forces the opportunity they rightfully deserve to cast their ballots," the Town Clerks declared.

Their statement follows:

"It is the considered opinion of the undersigned that provision should be made to provide means whereby the votes of our soldiers, sailors, marines, and auxiliary members of our armed forces may be able to cast their ballots with full assurance that they will be counted on Election Day.

"In the last State Election only a few ballots were received from those in the armed forces and were from those stationed within the borders of the United States. "In the last Town Election, held in Brookline, ballots did not reach the personnel of the armed forces stationed in the English theater of war until after the election had been held. One ballot was received from Alaska in time to be counted, but the was only post- (Please turn to Page Three)

Members of the Arlington Chamber of Commerce and their guests forgot rationing and other business problems and enjoyed an evening of unrated laughs at a gay ladies' night in the auditorium of the Arlington Gas Light company on Tuesday evening.

Arranged by Arthur W. Glines, a full evening's entertainment was presented by home talent with Edward W. Center as master of ceremonies and several members assisting to make the fun carnival a success. As advertised, it was by no means "heavy" entertainment, but was designed primarily as a New Year's laugh show.

Entertainers included Elda Angelucci, who presented popular and classical accordion solos; John Connelly, a magician; Ann Reed, whose monologues provided many hearty laughs; Muri Daniels, make-up artist known as "The Man of Many Faces"; and last but not least, Mr. Center, whose work at the piano keyboard was roundly applauded.

Center's ever-popular take-off on an old-time piano player accompanying a silent movie thriller, with appropriate sound effects, literally brought the house down.

Last but not least was Mr. Daniels' work in which he applied facial make-up to volunteers from the audience and turned out characters that were nothing short of amazing.

Hallam T. Ring, chairman of the finance committee, was made up to look like a girl while Ralph Stevens, vice president of the Chamber, turned out to be a dignified old lady after Mr. Daniels had finished applying make-up and a wig. Town Clerk Earl A. Ryder, as radio's Mortimer Snurd and Old Bill, famous character of World War I, would never have been recognized as the dignified past president of the Chamber.

With breath-taking speed and skill, Mr. Daniels made up Mr. Glines as George Bernard Shaw, then as Santa Claus and later as Buffalo Bill and Uncle Sam. President Lawrence Bliss, after being made up by Mr. Daniels, turned out to be a "jail-bird." To top off the parade of amusing characters, Mr. Daniels, using white paint lavishly, transformed Nils Anderson into a jolly clown, the artist's favorite character.

The entertainers, as a unit are appearing regularly in USO shows for soldiers and sailors.

sible through the use of air mail. Had the ballot been handled by regular mail it would not have arrived on time.

"The interim between the time ballots are printed and the election date is far too short to give our soldiers, sailors, marines and auxiliary members of our armed forces the opportunity they rightfully deserve to cast their ballots.

"The Special Commission, created by the act of the 1941 Legislature, provided for an investigation of the laws relating to primaries and elections. Machinery has been set up, based on the recommendations of this Special Commission, to make it possible for men and women in the armed forces of the United States to be registered by a kindred person, and also to provide for the filing of applications for absentee ballots. This was a forward step and exceeds any steps taken by any other state.

"To receive ballots, sent from overseas in the time now allotted, is practically impossible. Complete absentee voting facilities should immediately be made available to insure against the danger of our citizens, serving with our armed forces, being unable to cast their ballots on account of the lack of time now provided for. Present statutory requirements now make this impossible. We on the Home Front cannot fail in this sacred obligation. As citizens of a free democracy and members of our armed forces are entitled to all the rights and privileges of a truly free and democratic nation.

"In order to guarantee the right to vote to men and women fighting for our freedom and democracy, we believe that the Primary dates should be advanced from September 19, 1944, to the third Tuesday in June, 1944, with all the other laws pertinent to these dates to be correlated accordingly. This would provide a sufficient amount of time to print and distribute the ballots for the Election on November 7, 1944. Ballots could then be sent to all parts of the world and returned in time to be counted on Election Day.

"The question of providing absentee voting for the men and women in the armed forces should be properly handled by each state, and consideration should be given by each state legislature to create the necessary election machinery. At present, it is our understanding, special sessions of state legislatures are to be held with a view to providing the necessary election machinery to guarantee our fighting forces the right to vote in a free election in a free nation."

Removal Of Snow From Private Ways Up To Local Voters

A petition of particular interest to those living on private ways, or so-called unaccepted streets, is awaiting their signatures at the office of the Town Clerk.

A legislative act has been passed to provide that cities and towns may appropriate money for the removal of snow and ice from private ways, open to public use, if the voters so vote. The act provides that its acceptance shall be submitted to the registered voters at the annual town meeting upon petition of 200 registered voters.

The petition must first be signed by at least 200 voters, in order to be placed before the town meeting. The required number of signatures must be on the petition on or before Jan. 24.

ministrative secretary of the tire board. In April of the same year, Mr. Cousins resigned because of pressure of his own business. Earl E. Bolton of 21 Hawthorne ave., was appointed in his place.

The following May, Mr. Ziegler severed his connections with the Public Safety committee to give his full time to the rationing board.

With the advent of ceiling price regulations, the selectmen in July of last year appointed a Price Control Panel whose membership includes Karl M. Place, 22 Hawthorne ave.; George W. Hurley, 137 Sunset road; and Martin F. Roach, 72 Grafton st.

The speaker also praised the townspeople, who, as volunteers, have assisted the rationing board in many ways. Special tribute was paid the school department and its teachers who have played a major part in issuing of War Ration Books.

—John Donahue, 68, of 58 Brattle st., was removed to the Symmes Hospital in the police ambulance Sunday evening.

THE FORTHCOMING WAR LOAN

The year 1944 promises to be a decisive period in the war.

Gen. Eisenhower's words in expressing his unqualified prediction of European victory in 1944 are worth repeating. He said: "The only thing needed for us to win the European war in 1944 is for every man and woman, all the way from the front line to the remotest hamlet, to do his or her full duty."

A test of the determination of all of us to do full duty is forthcoming soon in the Fourth War Loan, which begins Jan. 18. The government again is calling on the American people to subscribe a huge sum in extra war bonds to help meet the financial cost of carrying the war to the enemy.

In this drive, the stress will be on participation by as many individuals as possible. This is the type of war bond buying which is an attack on two fronts at once, both a smash at enemy military power and a blow at inflation. For Massachusetts, the quota of individual sales has been set at $258,000,000 an amount equivalent to $65 for every man, woman and child.

It is a severe challenge, but one not impossible to meet. By succeeding in the Fourth War Loan drive, Massachusetts can show that its people are doing their full duty.

DON'T BE AN OSTRICH

The old story of the ostrich burying its head in the sand to avoid its enemies might be applied to the merchant who is trying to do business without advertising.

In spite of the many difficulties which beset the business man today in doing business, it will do him no good to hide behind these obstacles and expect the public to hunt him up to do business with him.

A product, or a service, that has earned the esteem of the public because of its value will soon be forgotten unless in some way it is advertised continually.

Stocks may be limited and some items may be impossible to obtain but service and goodwill can be maintained so that in the post-war period continued acceptance of reliable products will not have to be laboriously reestablished.

Newspaper advertising is still the most economical and effective way to build local business, and the progressive merchant should include this item in his 1944 budget to assure future business success.

War Bond Sales At Junior Woman's Club Centre Total $920 Told Of WAC Life

War Savings sales at the special booth in Woolworth's, Arlington Center, last week totalled $920.15. Of this amount, $375 represented War Bonds and $345.15, War Stamps.

The following groups will have charge of the booth during the coming week:
Monday, Brackett P.T.A., Mrs. J. Milton Washburn.
Tuesday, Peirce P.T.A., Mrs. George Walker.
Wednesday, Allied War Relief, Mrs. Morton Bradley.
Thursday, American Legion auxiliary, Mrs. Elmer Scribner and Mrs. Neves.
Friday, Women's Republican Club, Mrs. Marcus Gray.
Saturday, Friends of the Drama, Mrs. Robert Strong.

At Monday's meeting of the Arlington Junior Woman's Club, Private Britting of the WAC First Service Command gave a brief talk on the opportunities offered today by the WAC.

Mrs. Henri Blanc, bridal consultant, gave a very timely and informative talk on weddings. Miss Marjorie Wilson modeled a bridal gown of white satin trimmed with lace and wore on her hair a semicircle of white satin and pearls with a fingertip veil of tulle. Miss Marjorie MacGillivray, as the bride attendant, modeled a gown of russet satin and tulle, a cluster of russet velvet bows at the low waistline. Both gowns had sweetheart necklines trimmed with lace. Miss MacGillivray's head decoration was a calot of gold sequins edged with russet tulle.

The next meeting will be held Jan. 17.

The NEWS OBSERVES

More than 75 New Englanders will receive intensive training in emergency and disaster rescue methods at a Regional Rescue School in Providence, R. I., Jan. 19-21, under the auspices of the First Civilian Defense Region. The vital importance of the rescue service to communities in wartime as well as peacetime will be demonstrated.

The 1944 quota of surgical dressings for the Boston Metropolitan Chapter, of which Arlington is a branch, is four times what it was last year.

The stories in the paper of the coming offensive in Europe are a call for Red Cross Surgical Dressing Workers. Mrs. W. J. Vaughn, in charge of Arlington Red Cross Production Rooms, says that workers this year would have to be at least doubled to meet the increasing demands for surgical dressings made to the Red Cross by Army and Navy authorities.

Help your boy in the service by helping the Red Cross in your free moments in this all-important work of helping to save lives!

Servicemen, who are recuperating from wounds or sickness will be given special gasoline rations for use in traveling to or from their homes, or other places of convalescence, the OPA ruled this week.

Pvt. Parker L. Smith, husband of Mrs. Barbara Smith of 187 Westminster ave., enjoyed his first furlough, since his enlistment in September, over the holidays. He is stationed with an Engineers Aviation Battalion in Spokane, Wash.

Over $3,000.00 For Yule Seals

Christmas Seal contributions are still being mailed in to the Treasurer of the Arlington Tuberculosis Committee, Miss Winifred M. Connel. The returns to date are most gratifying, over $3,000.00 having been contributed by Arlington citizens.

The Seal Sale still has $15,000.00 to go before the goal of $45,000.00 for the county is reached. "It is not at all too late for any one to pay for the Seals he received at the beginning of the drive," Miss Connel said. "For, while the use of the Seals on holiday mail is over, the use of Christmas Seal money goes on throughout the entire year."

If the entire goal is raised, there will be no curtailment of the 1944 plans aimed at the control of tuberculosis. These plans include the X-raying of groups of people who might have unsuspected tuberculosis, the rehabilitation of persons recovered from this disease and the education of the public in the prevention of tuberculosis.

GAS IS VITAL

FOR WAR PRODUCTION . . .

Use it Wisely

Coal and oil, transportation and manpower, are vital to the nation's war effort and they're all used in making gas. That's why our government asks that you conserve gas wherever possible...to use it wisely.

COOPERATE IN THE NATIONAL VOLUNTARY CONSERVATION PROGRAM

★ THE WAR PRODUCTION BOARD asks that you save gas by observing these simple rules:

• COOKING—Don't use gas range oven for kitchen heating. Use low blue flame for surface cooking. Cook more "one-dish" meals. Use little water for vegetables. Lower flame when liquids start boiling. • REFRIGERATION—Don't place hot foods in refrigerator. Don't overcrowd shelves. Close door promptly. Defrost unit regularly. • WATER HEATING—Repair dripping faucets. Don't let water run while washing — use wash bowl. Use gas-heated water sparingly. Set automatic water heater thermostat at minimum of 120° to 140°. • HOUSE HEATING—Set thermostat at not over 65°. Shut off rooms not in use.

NOTED BISHOP TO SPEAK HERE

The Women's Guild of St. John's Episcopal church will have its first meeting next Thursday evening at 8 o'clock in the parish hall. All women of the church are invited.

Guest speaker will be the Rt. Rev. W. Blair Roberts, D.D., bishop of South Dakota, who has one of the most picturesque and arduous missionary fields in the United States, and ministers to 5,000 Sioux Indians as well as the Whites in town and on the ranch.

He went to South Dakota as a young man, in 1908. Under the direction of that missionary pioneer, Bishop Hugh Latimer Burleson, the young theologian student drove over the prairies with his horse and buggy, often sleeping in the open, and with Bishop Burleson, held services of song outside the uproarious saloons of those days.

Becoming Suffragan Bishop, and in 1931 as Bishop, he continued close to his people and their problems. Bishop Roberts speaks the language of the Sioux and is able to sing well-known hymns in that tongue.

During the first World War, he was chaplain of the 313th Engineers.

Following his talk, a social hour and refreshments will be enjoyed.

INJURED IN FALL

Injured in a fall down stairs, Mrs. Margaret Murray 70, was removed to the Symmes Hospital in the police ambulance Monday evening.

To Discuss Family Adjustment When Father Goes To War

The Arlington Pre-School P. T. A. will meet next Thursday evening, in the Junior Library Hall. There will be a round table discussion on "Adjusting the Family When Father Goes to War." All phases of the situation will be presented by the speakers who include: Mrs. John A. Bishop, Mrs. John J. Quinn, Mrs. John P. Morine and Mrs. Alfred Yood.

Atty. Cronin to Speak At Calvary Church

The next meeting of the Women's Society of Calvary Methodist Church, on Thursday, will be "Men's Night." The speaker will be Herbert J. Cronin, attorney, formerly with the F. B. I. for seven years, now connected with the U. S. Department of Agriculture. His message will be of vital importance as he will relate some of his experience with the F. B. I.

Heights Study Club

The next regular meeting of the Heights Study Club will be held at the Daffin Branch library next Tuesday, at 1:45 p.m. The first papers in the year's program of "The Melting Pot" dealing with racial groups will be "English" by Mrs. James C. Carr, and "Irish and Scottish" by Mrs. John Copp. This will be an open meeting and the hostesses for the afternoon are Mrs. Herbert Snow and Miss Esther Bailey.

Girl Scouts' Annual Session

The Arlington Girl Scout Council will hold its annual meeting on Tuesday at 8 p.m. in the Unitarian Church parlors. Leaders, council members, troop committee members, parents and all other interested adults are welcome.

The Wing Scout orchestra will furnish music and other Wing Scouts will assist with ushering and serving of refreshments. Mrs. Joseph Merritt of Hartford, regional member of the National Council, will be the guest speaker. Mrs. Merritt is well known in the New England Region. She has had experience as a leader, council member, and both regional and national committee member. A short business meeting will precede the program and the year's report to the community will be made.

Local Skating Areas Popular

Continued cold weather during the Christmas vacation gave Arlington youngsters ideal ice conditions to enjoy skating on local rinks and ponds.

Three skating areas provided by the park commissioners and supervised by their department have been unusually popular during the past few weeks. Largest is that at Hill's Pond in Menotomy Rocks Park. Two large rinks, one on Grove st., at the Wellington Park where the tennis courts were flooded for skating, and the other at Meadowbrook park near the Mystic Valley parkway, where the brook was dammed up to flood a large area, have attracted hundreds of children.

Hill's Pond, in Menotomy Rocks park, one of the beauty spots of the town, has been a mecca for children and adult skaters alike with a large crowd enjoying the sport there over the New Year's week-end especially. Perfect weather conditions for this time of the year encouraged scores to enjoy this outdoor winter sport.

Baptist Men's Class

Last Sunday the First Baptist Men's Class started its new year noon sessions with seventy-five members present. The Class welcomed back Bill Huston as song leader.

Visitors present included Pfc. Keith L. Gorton, home on furlough from Camp Robinson, Arkansas; also Oliver G. Robinson, Hopdale. A special executive board meeting was held Wednesday evening at the home of Vice President Raymond R. Young at which plans for the new year were discussed. Events scheduled include Family Night Social, Communion Breakfast, Special Guest Sunday and Father and Sons Banquet.

Next Sunday, Rev. Nathan W. Wood continues his topic "Paul at Ephesus."

—Sgt. Joseph Conley, U.S.M.C., is spending a two weeks furlough at his home, 17 Aberdeen road.

CHANGING STANDARDS

Change in the American standard of living brought about by priorities and rationing were inevitable. But whatever sacrifices must be made to insure victory, we all know that we are helping to win what we must and shall win—a continuance of our democratic fellowship of freedom.

The high standards of service, so long maintained by this organization, have not been lowered. The restrictions in the use of construction materials has not prevented the making of beautiful, durable caskets of distinguished craftsmanship. We continue to provide appropriate funerals of fine quality at prices set by the families when they make arrangements.
